As a teenager, Tammy Allen fell in love with the Blues of BB King. Her love affair has expanded over the years to include every style and genre of music. She has lived the dream her entire life and has perfected her main instrument: her soulful and silky smooth voice. Her love of exploring new directions in music has led her to create The Future of Jazz Competition in partnership with Atlanta's Office of Cultural Affairs. Now in its fourth year, this competition for original jazz had a stage of its own at The Atlanta Jazz Festival. Some of her upcoming events include "Puttin on The Ritz" October 16 at Atlanta Roswell Courtyard and a CD Preview Party October 19 at Sambuca Jazz Café.
